

Open Donor: Malaki

Staff impression:

Malaki is a former Marine that is currently pursuing his goal of becoming a doctor. He is tall and lean with a nice build that he maintains with exercise and playing sports. Malaki has light brown hair and kind green eyes. He has a medium complexion that tans nicely and a chiseled jaw line. He dresses simply in jeans and form fitting t-shirts with a bit of an alternative cowboy edge.

He is very artistic and can be found painting, drawing , or tattooing others often. He also enjoys music and plays guitar, drums, bass, piano, and violin. Malaki is bright and witty with knowledge of everything from auto mechanics to medicine. He easily makes us laugh when he visits the office and Malaki is always very polite. When we asked Malaki why he wanted to be a donor he said, "I have friends who were not able to conceive and it tore them apart."
