

Open Donor: Reilly

Staff impression:

Reilly is quite attractive with brown hair and dark blue eyes. He has a medium complexion and his skin tans easily. Reilly is a competitive swimmer and avid cyclist so he is in great physical condition to perform in these athletic sports. He has a beautiful smile that he flashes quite often and it certainly grabs our attention! Reilly is typically dressed comfortably in stylish tees or button up shirts and slacks or jeans.

Reilly is laid back, polite, and kind. He has an upbeat personality that is sure to make you smile when you interact with him. He is intelligent, bright, and witty. He is currently in medical school and balances his study time with outdoor activities and hanging out with friends. Reilly is a very independent person with a desire to help others. When we asked Reilly why he wanted to be a donor he said, "I have been a blood donor for many years because I value the opportunity to give something to somebody else in a way that does not hurt me, or take anything away from my life, other than a little time. When I heard about the opportunity to become a donor in a way that could help a couple or individual fulfill their dream of having a child, it seemed like the logical next step beyond being a blood donor..."
