

12101 Anderson – Staff Impression

Anderson's large striking blue/green eyes, fair skin, and dark hair immediately draw you to him. His welcoming smile and sweet disposition make him even more attractive. Anderson stands tall at 6'2 and keeps his athletic build by working out and eating right. In college Anderson studied Kinesiology, the study of mechanics of body movement. This passion transferred well into his current day job, working as a personal trainer and strength coach.

Anderson is a friendly, personable, and positive man. He is outgoing and kind-hearted. His hobbies include music, cooking, and teaching. You can find Anderson relaxing by playing the guitar and being creative. Anderson's strong, loving family has molded his personality and he thanks them for giving him the ability to love and support others in the world. Anderson's excitement for the donor program and helping people start their own families makes him an excellent donor and a great choice.
