

Rupert has an oval face, blue eyes, reddish brown hair, and fair skin with sparse freckles. He is tall and physically fit with a large build.

Rupert is a pleasure to speak with when he stops by our clinic. He is very intelligent, well-educated, cultured, and knowledgeable in a vast array of topics, a true renaissance man! In his free time, he tackled home renovation projects, plays Irish pub tunes on violin, backpacks through the great outdoors, reads prolifically, and cooks many adventurous recipes. He grew up on his close-knit family's farm where he developed his strong work ethic and warm, genuine, personality. He maintains a close relationship with his parents and sister, and as a person who values family greatly, he is excited to help others build families of their own.
