

Open Donor: Stetson

Staff Impression

Stetson is tall with strong, rounded, masculine features and expressive and sparkling blue-green eyes. He has a very nice medium skin tone and very dark hair that he keeps short. Stetson is usually clean shaven but has been known to come in with a few days of scruff. Stetson has a warm smile that show off his straight, white teeth.

Stetson extremely genuine and optimistic. He always comes in happy to see us and willing engage in discussion on any topic. He is one of those donors who you almost never see in a bad mood or having a bad day and is always a joy to visit with. Stetson is very dedicated in his studies. He was originally pursuing a degree in Bio-Medical Engineering, but has since decided law is where his heart truly lies. He has switched major and is currently studying law and hopes to attend law school in Arizona or California in the future. When asked why he wants to be a donor Stetson responded “I want to be able to help a family experience the joy that comes along with having a child.”
