

Eden has thick dark brown hair, blue eyes and fair skin. He has a medium build and is handsomely tall at 6'2". Eden may initially seem soft-spoken but once you get to know him, he is a very strong communicator and surprisingly great at public speaking. He has created his own career in the business of graphic design, working with companies to design logos and websites. He is overall very savvy with computers and considers programming and rebuilding computers as some of his favorite hobbies.

Eden grew up playing soccer and football, and still enjoys playing and watching football. Another passion of his is food and cooking. Though Japanese cuisine is his favorite, he enjoys branching out and trying new foods, as well as learning how to cook them. He has a strong relationship with his family and loves getting them together for dinner that he has prepared. Eden is an all-around great person and makes a great donor!
