Dedrick is tall and handsome with masculine features and a lean build. His attractive face is framed by curly, reddish-brown hair and has a strong, angular bone structure; a small nose; full brows; kind eyes; a broad smile; and a ruggedly square chin.

Dedrick is upbeat, adventurous, caring, and funny. Impressively, he earned his pilot's license as a teenager and plans on devoting more time to travel and aviation in the future. He is a great critical thinker with well-developed communication and organizational skills, all of which are valuable in his new career as a Software Engineering Product Manager. Dedrick has a lot of empathy for others and a desire to make the world a better place. His motivation for becoming a donor is to have the unique opportunity to help others have children.
