

Andre 10575 Staff Impression

Andre is incredibly sweet, friendly, and displays a positive attitude wherever he goes. He has thick, wavy brown hair and enticing brown eyes. Andre is lucky enough to have pursued his passion and works as a high school history teacher. Though he enjoys his current job, he is excited about his plans to become a university history professor in five to ten years. We appreciate his pleasant demeanor and how he values honesty and integrity.

When Andre is not teaching, he enjoys bike riding, playing soccer, and reading books about any historical period. He also has taken an interest in making music. Furthermore, when we asked him about any recent adventures he has taken, his answer was impressive as he described a solo trip to Norway he took and how inspiring it was to learn the culture of a foreign country on his own. Andre is also very thoughtful and his desire to become a donor in our program comes from a personal connection, as his mother struggled with fertility issues before having him. We are thankful for Andre and think he would be a great choice!
