

Statham 10634

Statham is a wise, educated, down-to-earth, and happy person. He is tall, with blue eyes, wavy blonde hair, and a smile that makes everyone else smile. Currently, Statham works as an Industrial Engineer, and hopes to continue his work in this field. He has always excelled at mathematics, and but also dabbles in mechanics.

In his free time, Statham thrives in spending time with his wife, roller-skating, weightlifting, reading, and playing basketball. He is very determined and a hard worker, while maintaining a bubbly and positive personality. One thing we really admire about Statham is that he has a special connection with infertility, as he was donor conceived, himself. He has come full circle and would like to help other families struggling with infertility. We are thankful to have him!
