

Open Donor: Conrad

Staff impression

Conrad is compassionate, intelligent, well traveled, funny, articulate, and generous. It is easy to see amongst his credentials that he possesses an amazing amount of knowledge and intellect (he has 2 master's degrees in Urban Planning and Public Administration). This donor is extremely insightful which is clearly evident when speaking with him or reading anything he has written.

When asked why he wanted to be a donor his response was: "In September 2008 my world changed. After a short labor I caught my son as he was born into this world. I've been in love with him ever since. My wife and I have watched our little baby boy grow and grow into a toddler that asks questions, gives hugs, loves books, and has a nonstop sense of curiosity. While us donors are financially compensated, for me the top reason for being a donor is to give people the cherished experience of having a child, an experience that I've been lucky enough to have."

Conrad is fit, with a lean and slender physique. He has medium brown hair and sparkling bright blue eyes. He is always dressed in a business casual manner.

Conrad is most fond of his wife and children, absolutely lighting up when speaking about them and sharing photos. We have even got to meet his amazing little ones and wonderful partner, whom supports her husband in the program whole heartedly. This donor is amazing and someone we cherish in the program, his heart couldn't be in a better place.
