

Lozano 10647 Staff Impression

Lozano is a handsome young man with a lean and athletic build that reflects his active lifestyle. His brown eyes are deep and thoughtful, complementing his black hair and olive complexion. He has an oval face with a great bone structure that includes high cheekbones, and a strong square chin.

Lozano is a high-energy individual with a positive attitude. He is outgoing and friendly, always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. He takes pride in his 4 years of service in the Army, working as a reconnaissance scout. This experience has given him a sense of discipline and focus that he carries with him in all aspects of his life. Lozano is a fitness enthusiast and loves to work out. He enjoys weightlifting, plyometrics, and HIIT, always pushing himself to be the best he can be. He also has a creative side and enjoys using his hands to work on cars and playing the drums. With a B.S. in pharmacology and toxicology, he has his sights set on medical school to become a plastic surgeon, a career path that allows him to combine his passion for science with his desire to help others.