

Stitzer 10559

Stitzer is an intelligent, adventurous, and all-around interesting guy! He is tall, with soft brown eyes, and wavy, sandy brown hair. We find his personality as relaxed and calming. He has a very impressive educational background in Biochemistry, and we admire his determination to complete such a challenging degree! Stitzer is very kind, respectful, and goal-oriented. He plans on becoming a pathologist and working in a hospital setting.

In addition to his academic intelligence, he is artistic and musically talented; we are impressed with his ability to play the piano, violin, and guitar. He is a jet-setter who has traveled to Turkey, Greece, Italy, France, Vatican City, Mexico, Canada, England, Germany, and Aruba! For any family looking for an adventurous donor, with work ethic and grit, Stitzer is the donor for you.
