

Jermaine 14345

Jermaine is kind, intelligent, and has a positive, upbeat personality. He is tan, with brown hair and brown eyes, and a great smile. Jermaine is currently studying to be a teacher, and one day would like to teach English or music; we always look forward to hearing what he plans to explore next.

Some of Jermaine's favorite activities include visiting national parks and museums. He also enjoys playing musical instruments such as the tenor sax, clarinet, and even the didgeridoo! Jermaine is also a husband and a father and is most proud of the family he has created. His compassion and empathy for others is evident whenever he is around, and we recommend him to any family.
