Condon is the embodiment of joy with a sky-blue twinkle in his eyes and a perpetual smile that could brighten anyone's day. Standing at 5'9" with a slim athletic build, he's the kind of person who brings a playful energy wherever he goes. His light-medium brown hair, always perfectly straight, frames an oval-shaped face and his expressive eyes are always lit up with a sense of adventure. With a straight nose and sometimes sporting a pair of stylish glasses, Condon effortlessly blends intellectual charm.

Condon is a science-loving entrepreneur who has mastered the art of making numbers and molecules fun! As the owner of his own tutoring business, he helps people conquer math, chemistry, and physics with ease. But the real twist, he reads about these subjects for fun in his spare time! Fluent in both English and Italian, Condon is a man of many talents, including juggling, which he does with the same enthusiasm he brings to everything else. A certified scuba diver, Condon's favorite underwater friend is the octopus—an animal as clever and versatile as he is. On land, he's all about sushi, proudly calling himself a 'bottomless pit' when it comes to devouring his favorite food. And if you want to see his face really light up, just ask him about his parents, especially his mom, whose wisdom and teachings have shaped him into the incredible person he is today.
