

Flipper 10843 Staff Impression

Flipper, a lively 5'11" guy with a medium build that perfectly fits his energetic spirit. His short black hair and deep brown eyes are windows to his soul, always sparkling with curiosity. A proud lefty, Flipper embraces his unique flair in everything he does. As a devoted practitioner of Hinduism, he finds peace and wisdom in its teachings, guiding him through life's adventures with a joyful heart and an open mind.

Flipper is a dynamic medical student on a mission to revolutionize the surgical world! When he's not deep in his studies, you might catch him on the basketball court, either watching or playing his favorite sport. A man of many talents, Flipper can strum both the electric and acoustic guitar, filling any room with music. And here's a fun twist – he's also a runway model, effortlessly combining brains, brawn, and style! In his downtime, Flipper enjoys getting his hands dirty working on classic cars, bringing them back to life just as he aims to do in the operating room. This future surgeon is all set to change the medical field for the better, one step (or strut) at a time!
