

Open Donor: Markus

Staff Impression

Markus is tall with long, lean muscles from exercising daily. Markus loves bicycling, running, and lifting weights to stay in fine physical shape. He has reddish-brown hair that he keeps shaved very short and a neat, equally short beard and mustache. Markus has very nice, defined facial features, including high cheekbones and a square jaw. His dark-brown eyes observe his surroundings at all times. Markus is a very good-looking young man.

Markus maintains a wealth of knowledge on a number of subjects, as he is well-traveled and reads non-fiction constantly. He expresses himself thoughtfully and with ease. Markus also loves writing and is currently working on a novel in his spare time. When asked why he wants to be a donor, Markus answered, "Despite living a life of goodwill, I don't think anything else I do will have a similarly powerful positive impact on a stranger's life." Markus is a generous and fabulous donor.
